BOYCE HOUSE ASKS FOR HIGHER TEACHERS PAY

Boyce House, newspaperman and candidate for Lieutenant Governor, today advocated higher salaries for teachers as a means of maintaining a highly skilled career corps of public school instructors.

"Other professions and industries have drawn many from the teachers' ranks due to better pay and working conditions," House said. "And it is about time we realized that if the schools are to hold their present staffs and to attract the most capable men and women to the school systems, we must remedy this low pay schedule."

"Teaching is a career; it's more than a career, for it's in the school rooms that character is moulded in our men and women of tomorrow."

"The teaching profession now is viewed by many a student of teachers' colleges as a stop-gap occupation—between college and marriage. Few public school teachers, both men and women, who have returned from the service, are going back to the class rooms, and a recent survey among students at teachers' colleges revealed that few intend to follow teaching long as a profession."

"The answer is a corps of career teachers—well paid and working under the best possible conditions."

Dr. Harry Rubin Is Lions Club Speaker

Dr. Harry Rubin of Waco, manager of the Veterans Administration, was guest speaker Tuesday at the Lions Club luncheon.

Dr. Rubin has been active in Veterans Administration work for a number of years and recently returned to Waco from Washington where he was stationed for a time.

Emmett Streetman was program chairman and introduced Dr. Rubin. Administration of the department for veterans has become one of the most important in post war government departments.

CAMERON LOOKS TO AIR PORT BUILDING

The city has enacted an ordinance governing the use of the municipal airport.

On Tuesday night the council passed the ordinance under suspension of the rules requiring them to be read at three separate meetings and the new law went into effect.

The ordinance is a standard type of law to govern the operation of the field and set up regulations that are standard. The city is looking forward to getting federal aid.

Already a gasoline concession has been sold at the field. Another concession which will further the service is under consideration. The city also plans a hangar and Mayor A. W. McCullin has done a great deal of work already on this matter.

JUNE 22 DEADLINE TO PLANT INSURED COTTON

In a meeting June 14, the Milam County A. C. A. Committee set the date of June 22, 1946 as final date for planting cotton in Milam county. Any acreage seeded to cotton after that date will not be covered by insurance.

It is each producer's responsibility to furnish measurements of cotton planted on each farm. Acreage should be carefully estimated, but need not be measured, and reports shall include all cotton acreage in which he had a share at the time of planting, on all farms in Milam county. Neither the acreage reported nor the share reported can be increased by the insured after the report is signed.

The Insurance Adjuster of Milam County will visit all farms that are insured within the next ten days or so, and we suggest for all the acreage reports to be ready to turn over to the Adjuster, as he will not measure any acreages.

The above information was announced by Alva E. Sanders, Secretary of the Milam County ACA.

Mrs. B. A. Coates of Cameron Rt. 3, is among the patients in Newton Memorial Hospital and is doing well.

Army Film to Be Shown On Court House Lawn Free to The Public

The film, "Return of Cpl. Adams," will be shown Friday night, June 21 at 8:00 o'clock on the Court House lawn.

Of interest to the general public, the film is being sponsored by the Army Recruiting Service from Temple. The public is cordially invited to come and enjoy an hour or more of wholesome entertainment.

BUILDING PERMIT LAW TO BE PASSED HERE

Cameron may soon have a building permit law.

The council on Tuesday night authorized the legal department to prepare an ordinance requiring permits before construction can begin.

Such an ordinance is aimed at reducing insurance charges. If Cameron had enacted and enforced such an ordinance years ago the property owners would have saved many hundreds of thousands of dollars on insurance premiums and disgraceful shacks would not now dot the mercantile area.

The Cameron key rate of insurance is 87 per cent deficient, according to local insurance agents.

If the new ordinance is enforced, it will be most beneficial. For a long time the city has had but never enforced an ordinance against inflammable structures in the fire limits.

A building permit law will enable the tax records to keep up with increasing property values.

It was said Wednesday that the ordinance will compel a permit for any structure or addition from a cost of $100 up. Also it will require connection with sewer lines if constructed within 100 feet of sewer line.

Twin Cantaloupes Are Exhibited; Will Lake Makes 400 Bushels

Twin cantaloupes taken from the field of Will Lake north of the city have attracted much attention in the show window of The Herald.

These cantaloupes are very fine and are so thoroughly twins the stems are equally joined.

Mr. Lake says he has four acres and will get about 400 bushels of marketable cantaloupes from this planting. He has already sold about 200 bushels and expects to market 200 more bushels. He has received $2 per bushel. The quality has been very high.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Owens are spending his vacation with his parents in Oklahoma. He is manager of Duke & Ayres here.

Rally Postponed

REESE TURNER

Former Representative Reese Turner, candidate for governor, was getting a strong boost from home town supporters and a big rally is scheduled for 8 p. m. Saturday, July 22 on the Court House Lawn in Cameron. The rally was postponed because of rain. It was scheduled to be held on Thursday night, June 20. Local supporters are making arrangements for the campaign address.

Turner says he will discuss his contract with the people and has declined to refer to his proposals as a platform.

W. E. Thomas Will Not Be Candidate In Justice Prec. 3

W. E. Thomas, Justice of Peace for Precinct 3, residing at Milano, will not be a candidate for re-election to that office, he announced here Monday.

Mr. Thomas has held the office for a number of years. In announcing he will not be a candidate, he said:

"I will not be a candidate for the nomination for Justice of the Peace in Precinct 3 this summer. I make this announcement after the last date for filing because I did not want to be associated in any way with developments which usually occur when an official announces he will not run. In this way my entire impartiality can be shown."

"I am not a candidate because I feel that I have held the office long enough and I want someone else to have an opportunity to serve."

"In declining to run I want the people of the precinct to know that I will always cherish their confidence and their cooperation. I also wish to express to all the county officials my sincere appreciation for their kindness and cooperation. During my long term of service in this office I have had the best of cooperation at all times and I want each one to know my gratitude."

CULPEPPER STORE HERE OBSERVES FIRST YEAR

Culpepper's hardware and home furnishing store in Cameron was established a year ago and opened for business on June 22.

On Saturday, June 22 the big store and its corps of employees will welcome the public to the first anniversary celebration and sale. In the merchandising that will feature this anniversary many hard to get items are being offered.

The Culpepper store is one of the largest in central Texas and its stocks have been gradually built up over the 12 months period it has been in operation.

The store will open at the usual hour on Saturday and the public is invited to come and enjoy the feast of bargains and let the management extend thanks for the splendid patronage that has been given this great Cameron retail enterprise.

POULTRY SHOW PLANS ARE ADVANCED HERE

Plans for the coming fall poultry show in Cameron were advanced Tuesday night by the Chamber of Commerce when directors met to make up their program for the year.

The poultry show could not be held in 1945 because of shortage of coops for displaying poultry. The committee on agriculture has contacted a manufacturer who can supply these coops and finances are being arranged to buy them.

The poultry show may be annual here. The importance of poultry to the local economy may spur the Chamber of Commerce to hold a creditable show, one that would encourage producers.

Local Men Are Given Opportunity to Head National Guard Unit

Men who have come out of the war and who have the qualifications and experience will be given opportunity to receive appointments as officers in the National Guard unit to be stationed here.

All who are interested and who can qualify should see L. Van Perkins, manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

All preliminary work has been completed here but personnel is to be recruited and it is not certain that this can be done.

The state will build an armory in Cameron. It is contemplated that an Artillery Battery of four officers and 75 enlisted men will be stationed here.

Poage Says He Voted to Override

Dear Friends:

Most service men who have a common name like Jones, Smith, or Johnson find it to be a source of continual confusion. On the other hand, politicians have long looked upon an unusual name like Poage as a handicap. This was due to the fact that the public finds it difficult to remember strange names and many people will always vote for the name they know. For many years, any candidate who had the name of Davidson or Terrell started with a decided advantage in a state race.

This week I found that an unusual name could involve one in other difficulties. On Tuesday (June 11th) the President vetoed the Case Bill, and the House voted on the question of over-riding the veto. The Associated Press sent out the correct total and even gave the correct names of those of the Texas Delegation who voted against over-riding. In the list of the entire House, the A.P. listed "PAGE" as voting to over-ride. There is no member by the name of "Page." Obviously they simply dropped the letter "o" from my name, but when it got to Texas, our papers, knowing that there was no Texas Member named "Page" simply omitted my name entirely.

While I can easily understand the error, I regret it because I have never tried to hide my position on any important issue.

DEMOCRATS HERE PLAN PRIMARY ELECTIONS

Members of the Democratic Executive Committee in session here Monday morning made plans for the coming July and August primaries and made assessments against the candidates.

J. B. White, chairman, submitted the budget for the primaries which was adopted and the committee proceeded to approve the assessments and to name election managers.

An afternoon session was necessary to determine the order of the ballot.

Assessments this year against candidates are higher than in previous elections due to increased pay for election managers and clerks and also a salary for the chairman.

The committee, although taking no official action, expressed opposition to negroes participating in the primaries.

Among other matters before the committee was the naming of a ballot committee which is to meet on Monday, June 24 to arrange for the printing of the ticket.

Candidates will have until Saturday, June 22 to pay the assessments made against them.

The ticket bears the largest number of state candidates in the history of the party.

Veteran members of the committee present were O. C. Nolte of Ben Arnold, since 1916; George Leath of Curry, since 1921; and W. B. Elliott of Thorndale for the past 26 years.

ASSESSMENTS AGAINST CANDIDATES ARE MADE

The Milam County Democratic Executive Committee here Monday instituted a new system of making assessments against candidates to defray the expense of the Primary elections.

For the first time all assessments are on a percentage basis and each candidate will pay in proportion to the amount of salary he is paid. Four year offices pay the same in percentage. Precinct offices pay on the percentage based upon their statement of earnings filed with the District Clerk.

The ballot fee for legislative and congress candidates are fixed by law at $1.00 each. Ballot fees are as follows under the new system of 2 per cent of the total salary for the two and four year terms: District Clerk $139.47; County Judge $127.20; County Clerk $162.08; County Treasurer $67.20; Assessor and Collector $170.00; County Superintendent $288.00; County Attorney $162.22; Sheriff $142.15; County Surveyor $12.00; County Chairman $12.00; County Commissioner $100.00; Precinct office candidates 2 per cent of their past two year earnings.

Poland China Sow Is Mass Producer; Mother 17 Pigs on Tomek Farm

A fine Poland China sow on the Frank Tomek, Sr., farm is doing her share to relieve the world shortage of food. Last week she became the mother of 17 pigs, the largest litter reported in this area.

A great misfortune befell the family of future porkers and now only 6 of them are living. The sow is very large and killed most of her litter by laying her weight on them.

Mr. Tomek seems to have scored some sort of record at his farm in this litter of pigs. So far as known this is the largest number of pigs ever farrowed by a brood sow in this country.

EUGENE JEKEL WINS 2 FUTURE FARM AWARDS

Eugene Jekel, who is President of the Cameron high school FFA Chapter, was awarded the Lone Star Farmer degree at the state convention recently.

To receive the Lone Star Farmer degree, the boy must make $250.00 from his own efforts, in his supervised farming program.

Wm. F. Arthur, Vocational Agriculture teacher, also stated that Eugene won the state Farm and Home Electrification Award which was $100 for first place.

The winner is chosen from a group of boys who have used and applied electricity on the farm. Eugene helped wire a home, wired a barn, garage, brooder house and uses an electric brooder in brooding his baby chick project for capons.

Eugene has made an excellent record in the FFA chapter.

CAMERON FIREMEN WIN STATE RACE

CONCENTRATION NEED FOR PRODUCE GROWING

Producers of cantaloupes, melons and tomatoes in the Cameron area were badly in need of concentration facilities if they are to realize fully upon their crops.

Out-of-state trucks were coming into the city in increasing numbers and making inquiries about the location of cantaloupe fields.

Advocates of the concentration center among business men as well as farmers, point out that the crop could be sold quickly if the city could provide a market center where produce could be brought in and concentrated for quick pick up of trucks.

This same facility would also increase railroad shippings. As it is done here the railroads do not ship these products, because there are no co-ordinated efforts to place such loading facilities at the disposal of producers.

The net result of this lack of foresight on the part of Cameron is a huge loss of perishable commodities each season.

During the movement of the melon crop truckers are put to disadvantage because they have no central contact with this produce.

Freddy Johns is spending several weeks in Laurel, Miss.

Your new All-Electric Laundry will be a Marvel of Convenience...

"Wash Day Bright" becomes a reality with an all-electric home laundry, which is properly lighted for the various laundry tasks.

Proper lighting plays a vital part in the operation of your home laundry, where plenty of well-directed, glareless light does away with eye-fatigue just as your automatic washer, dryer and ironer do away with the drudgery of washday.

Your home laundry should have general illumination throughout the room, while localized lighting units should be used to provide light free from shadows and reflected glare at the various working centers where the laundry is sorted, where spots are removed, and where ironing is done.

You'll be surprised and delighted when you see the pleasing difference proper lighting will make. See your Electrical Dealer today about plans for providing proper lighting in your laundry.

TERRACES — "Eaves troughs" for River Watersheds

The test tube of river water pictured here is evidence that erosion may be stealing your farm from under your feet. Notice the layer of fertile silt which has settled to the bottom — a tiny sample of 100 million tons one river carries away every year from bordering farms.

Erosion means more than gullies scarring hillsides. Much of your soil loss comes from the gentle creeping of top-soil down the slope to lower levels where it is floated away by runoff surface water.

You can anchor your soil safely in your fields by building "eaves troughs" — terraces and contour strips to control runoff water. These operations can be done with regular home-owned farm equipment, such as mold-board plows, disc plows or tiller discs. Allis-Chalmers is cooperating with soil conservation engineers in demonstrating tractor methods of terracing, strip cropping, constructing ponds, reservoirs and waterways.

Ask us for the Allis-Chalmers handbook "You Have What It Takes To Contour and Terrace."

Excuse us for braggin' about being

AMERICA'S SAFEST MAJOR RAILROAD

RECORDS recently released by the bureau of safety of the Interstate Commerce Commission show that the safest major railroad in the United States in 1945 was the Southwest's own Southern Pacific Lines in Texas and Louisiana.

This is a record that calls for a little bragging. It was achieved, not by accident, but by the untiring efforts of the Southern Pacific Safety Department backed by the wholehearted cooperation of every man and woman in the organization.

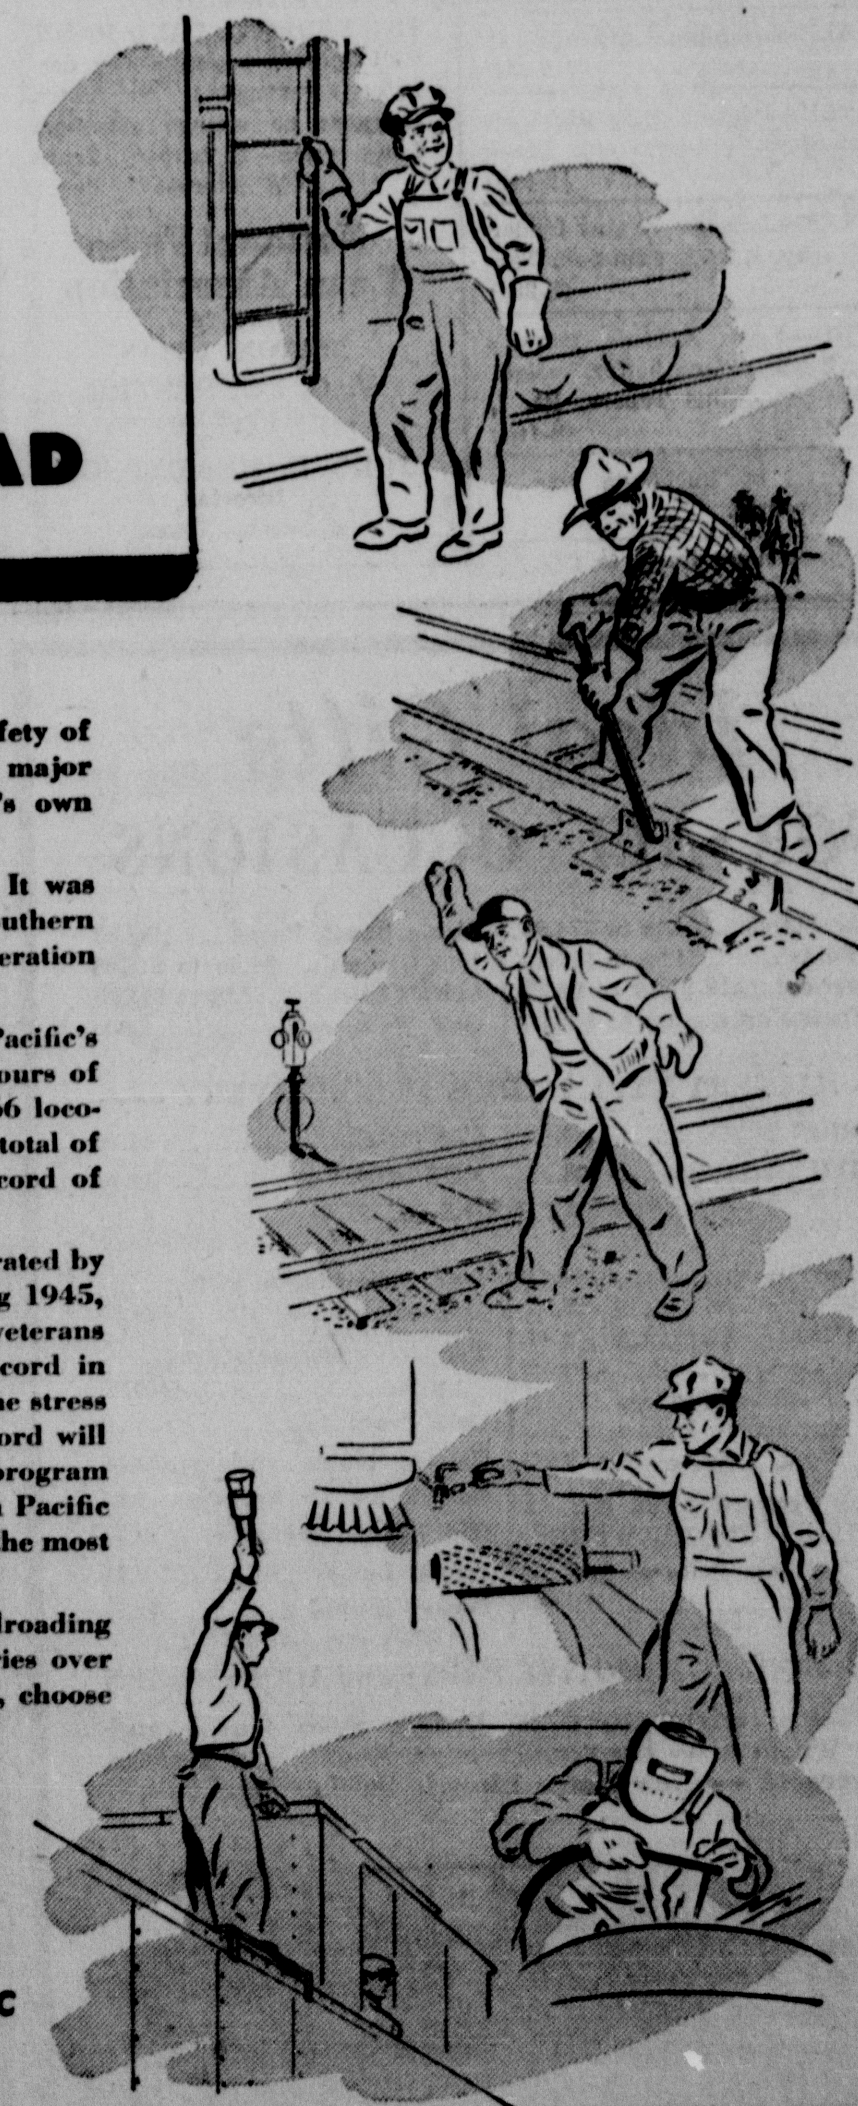

Last year, our climactic war year, Southern Pacific's average of 18,718 employees performed 49,600,000 man hours of work. They operated 18,531,994 train-miles and 23,293,266 locomotive miles. This magnificent job was accomplished with a total of only 172 reportable casualties during the entire year, a record of 3.47 casualties per million man-hours of work.

4400 miles of line in Texas and Louisiana are operated by Southern Pacific and every mile of this line was busy during 1945, carrying war traffic in the earlier months and returning veterans during the year's end. To have achieved such a safety record in normal times would be notable. To have achieved it under the stress of wartime conditions is little short of incredible. This record will stand as a permanent monument to the well-planned safety program of the Safety Department and to the teamwork of Southern Pacific employees and management in carrying it out during one of the most trying years in the nation's history.

The same devotion to the principles of safe railroading that has won for Southern Pacific this national award carries over into SP's service to you. When you or your family travel, choose the dependable Southern Pacific, safest railroad in America.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 23.

The Golden Text is: "The Lord by wisdom hath founded the earth; by understanding hath he established the heavens" (Proverbs 3:19).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "O Lord, how manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches" (Psalms 104: 24).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God creates and governs the universe, including man. The universe is filled with spiritual ideas, which He evolves, and they are obedient to the Mind that makes them" (page 295).

Velma Head, After 20 Years Came Back For Visit to Old Friends

Velma Head of Baytown was in Cameron Saturday and Sunday for a few hours to shake hands with old friends and to see the city which he left 20 years ago and had not returned to.

Head was born and reared in Cameron. "I worked for pretty near every one," he said, but seemed to recall with greater interest his years at the Palace of Sweets which was then being run by Walter F. Sharpe and Hillary H. Stedman.

Head has put on some weight but on the whole is the same fine chap we used to pass the time of day with in the nearly quarter century ago. He has done well and his friends here will be glad to know about Cameron folks who make good outside the old home town.

He was on his way to San Antonio to attend the Druggist Convention. He was meeting a Temple friend here and they went by private car to the Alamo City last Sunday. Head is now a widely known druggist and is with the dispensary at the big hospital of the Humble Oil & Refining Company in Baytown. He has held this position for a number of years.

Mr. Head was married in Cameron. His wife is also named Velma. She is the former Miss Velma Huddleston, the daughter of Rev. Huddleston who was pastor of the First Methodist church in Cameron.

They have two sons, one of them Donovan L. Head, served in the United States Navy and was stationed for a time on Saipan. He has been discharged and will enter A & M College

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

- 1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.
- 2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

Chamber Commerce Is Supporting FFA Boys On Gilt Program

The Chamber of Commerce furnished the FFA club $150.00 to purchase gilts. There were 8 gilts bought and the following boys received them; Eugene Jekel, Leland Seidl, Laddie Vaculin, Johnnie Gurecky, Bennie McDonald, Thomas Merka, Kenneth Miller, and Wilfred Polzer.

The boys took the gilts with an agreement that they were to feed and care for them, and that one gilt from the first litter would be given back to the club for another boy to get next year.

Wm. F. Arthur, vocational teacher, stated that by this means some very good registered Poland China hogs have been introduced here.

The boys will exhibit the gilts next spring at the local livestock show.

Texas Rangers Seize Temple Slot Machines

Texas Rangers, led by Capt. Fred Olsen, raided at least three downtown amusement places on South First Street last night, picking up slot machines.

Captain Olsen declined to estimate how many machines were being picked up until he had checked after the raids, which he said would be "3 or 4 o'clock in the morning." However, a Telegram reporter saw two small trailers and a truck trailer loaded with between 30 and 40 machines by the Rangers.

A crowd of several hundred persons quickly gathered to watch the Rangers, overflowed into the street and police had to unsnarl several traffic jams.—Temple Telegram.

Love and Banditry In Big Western Drama

A law-officer's efforts to get his reckless brother out of trouble, and a woman editor's attempts to bring a lawless no-man's land under Federal control, furnish the personal motivations in "Badman's Territory," RKO Radio's big outdoor romance with Randolph Scott, Ann Richards and George "Gabby" Hayes. Coming to the Cameron theatre Thursday and Friday, the story was laid more than a half century ago in a region which today constitutes the Oklahoma Panhandle. The picture features a train robbery, a sensational frontier horse race, and a bank hold-up among its thrills. Scott portrays a Texas sheriff, and Miss Richards is cast as a fiery newspaperwoman, with Hayes as a genial outlaw riding with one bandit gang after another.

The James Boys, the Dalton Brothers, Belle Starr, Sam Bass and many other gun-toting celebrities of the period are represented in the story. The spirited romance which grows up between the sheriff and the pretty journalist also leads to much of the film's interest.

Lawrence Tierney, James Warren, Ray Collins, Morgan Conway, Isabel Jewell, Tom Tyler and other noted players have prominent roles in "Badman's Territory," which the studio compares in magnitude to its great former hit "Cimarron."

Bowery Boys Due 'In Fast Company'

"In Fast Company," Monogram's new Bowery Boys film starring Leo Gorcey, coming to the Cameron Theatre on Saturday, Huntz Hall, Bobby Jordan, Billy Benedict and David Gorcey, who comprise the rambunctious gang, will be seen in the latest of their hectic screen adventures, which is expected to reach new heights of hilarity and action. Jane Randolph and Judy Clark also appear in featured roles.

Gorcey and his buddies become involved in a taxicab dispute at the request of the community priest, who discovers that taxi racketeers are endeavoring to force independent operators out of business. The boys run into explosive situations as they attempt to straighten out matters in their boisterous fashion, and the whole affair is filled with laughs and excitement.

Others in the cast are Douglas Fowley, Marjorie Woodworth, Charles D. Brown, Paul Harvey, Luis Alberni, Mary Gordon, Bernard Gorcey, George Eldredge, William Ruhl, Dick Wessel and John Indriano. Del Lord directed the Jan Grippo production, co-produced by Lindsey Parsons and Grippo. The original story by Martin Mooney was adapted for the screen by Edmond Seward.

All Real Texas Cast In 'Flaming Bullets' Film

When PRC put Tex Ritter, Dave O'Brien and Guy Wilkerson in the roles of Texas Rangers in "Flaming Bullets," coming to the Milam Theatre Friday and Saturday, it was a perfect bit of type casting.

They're all real Texans! Tex Ritter was born in Murvaul, Texas, near Beaumont and is a graduate of the University of Texas with a B. A. degree. He went on the radio, eventually landed in New York and made a stage debut in the Broadway production of "Green Grow the Lilacs." Two other plays followed, "The Round-Up" and "Mother Lode." Hollywood discovered him in the latter production and he has been a western star ever since. His first picture was "Song of the Gringo," in 1936 for Grand National Pictures.

Dave O'Brien came from the other end of Texas—Big Springs, where he was reared on a ranch, sold newspapers, worked as a plumber's helper and finally got the urge to act. His first stage role was with a stock company in El Paso. In 1935 he stormed Los Angeles, played in a few stage plays and finally made the grade in pictures in "The Little Colonel" for Paramount. He made the first PRC Texas Ranger picture in 1943.

Guy Wilkerson, who is the comedy relief of the Texas Ranger trio, was born in Katy, Texas, and says he started acting so long ago that he's forgotten the details. However, he still spends his vacation on a huge ranch near Katy that is still operated by his sister.

'Along Came Jones' Stresses Romance

When a man who can't hit the broad side of a barn with his six-gun sets out to pose as a redoubtable outlaw, things are likely to happen to him. This is the hero's situation in "Along Came Jones," International's Gary Cooper-Loretta Young starring vehicle, coming to the Milam Theatre Sunday and Monday with a hectic heart affair played against a western adventure background.

Melody Jones, a roving ranger who cherishes an ambition to be a big-shot in the border country despite his clumsiness with a gun, finds himself mistaken for a notorious bandit. Rescued from the vengeful citizens by the quick-witted Cherry DeLongpre, Melody learns that she's using him as a decoy so the real bandit can get out of the country.

Moved by conflicting desires to help out a lady in distress and to achieve capture of the fugitive bad man, Melody forgets about his lack of prowess with a gun and deliberately goes back to the town to impersonate the outlaw and see what'll happen. Plenty does, and the troubles Melody finds himself in make for the exciting crises in the stirring adventure-romance.

The two stars are aided by the work of William Demarest, Dan Duryea, Frank Sully, Don Costello, Willard Robertson in important roles. Stuart Heisler directed "Along Came Jones," which Cooper himself produced. Nunnally Johnson wrote the screenplay from Alan LeMay's novel. RKO Radio distributes. "Along Came Jones" is being played in 16-mm form before American service men at all action fronts by courtesy of the motion picture industry, supplementing the Army's formal exhibitions at expeditionary bases.

Durante Makes Dance Debut in 'Two Sisters'

Jimmy Durante dances for the first time in his thirty-five years as an entertainer.

The "Schnozzle" makes his hoofing debut with pert Kathryn Grayson in M-G-M's gay new musical, "Two Sisters from Boston," coming to the Cameron Theatre Sunday and Monday. Miss Grayson and June Allyson are the two sisters of the title, with Lauritz Melchior and Peter Lawford other headliners in the cast.

The story, centered on Miss Grayson's attempts to reach the grand opera stage via a Bowery beer hall floor show, gives Durante a field day for his varied talents. He sings, dances, plays the piano, makes faces—and even acts!

Among the numbers in which the comedian participates—either as dancer, singer or piano accompanist—are "The Fire Chief's Daughter," "Down by the Ocean," "After the Show" and "G'wan Home Your Mudder's Callin'." The songs are the work of Sammy Fain and Ralph Freed.

New shipment of legal size Stencil at the Herald. Also new papers, blotter, carbons, typewriter ribbons.

Mexico Looks Ahead

Among the forward-looking laws instituted by Mexico's progressive leaders is the government order that each literate person shall teach at least one illiterate to read and write, says the March of Time film, "Tomorrow's Mexico." Books have also been brought within the reach of all. Thus a population which a few years ago was nearly fifty percent illiterate will soon be able to read and write, thanks to the government campaign.

From Mexico's able wartime foreign minister, Ezequiel Padilla, U.S. officials received the friendliest kind of cooperation, says March of Time's "Tomorrow's Mexico." And U. S. railway experts, rehabilitating Mexico's transportation system, greatly aided her struggle toward economic progress. It was Padilla's work in helping to line up Latin America against the Axis that won for Mexico a leading position in hemispheric affairs.

LUPE CAVASA IS FOUND SHOT IN HOME THURSDAY

Lupe Cavasa, 45, was found dead in bed at his home in West Cameron at 6:30 a.m., Thursday.

Justice Womack Brashear rendered a verdict of suicide.

Cavasa, according to Sheriff Carl Black, had sent his children to a neighboring home with a note to his brother-in-law and while they were gone he took his own life.

Cavasa was shot in the mouth, the bullet emerging through the left temple. In his right hand was a .32 automatic pistol.

Justice Brashear said that Cavasa wrote three notes, all of them indicating his intention to commit suicide. One of the notes was addressed to a white woman, one to his brother-in-law and the other to the police. He asked the officers to be assured he was shooting himself and that no one was responsible.

The body lay across a bed in his home. Cavasa had lived in Cameron for a number of years.

CONVENTIONS IN JULY STRESSED FOR PARTY

Precinct conventions to be held in each of the voting boxes of the county on July 27, the date of the primary election, will be important since there is a movement in the state to rive the political strife brought on by the bolt in 1944.

Precinct chairmen who are members of the Executive Committee are urged to see that conventions are held by cooperating with the election managers. Under instructions election managers are to hold these conventions.

The conventions in the rural areas are held at 2 p.m. and in the cities and towns at 7 p.m.

In some of the larger counties the Texas regulars are making a fight. Milam county has always been straight laced along party lines and the Party as organized has been alerted to keep faith with the nominees.

portant matter. Some have suggested to me that since no one knows how I voted that I should say nothing about it, but I have always believed that the people I represent have a right to know my views. I was present, and I voted as the Congressional Record of June 11, 1946, page 6801 will show.

I have repeatedly expressed my convictions that we should pass legislation to put labor and management on the same legal footing. The Case Bill helps to do that. I have repeatedly stated that I felt that union membership should not protect any man from responsibility for his acts. The Case Bill imposes liability for crimes and for breach of contract on unions and union officials just as now rests on business corporations and on business officials. I had voted for the Case Bill when it originally passed the House. Last December President Truman asked for fact-finding legislation, including a cooling-off period in the hope that it would get production going. On January 3, he appealed to the Congress: "If the measures which I have recommended to accomplish these ends do not meet the approval of Congress, it is my present wish—and I am sure that is the wish of my fellow citizens—that the Congress formulate measures of its own to carry out the desired objectives. It is definitely the responsibility of Congress. What the American people want is action." I applauded the President's statement believing that he really wanted Congress to work out a measure. For months Congress has studied labor legislation. The situation has gotten steadily worse. At last we did formulate a measure of our own as the President had asked. Congress discharged its responsibility. The people got the action that the President said they wanted. I am deeply disappointed that our President should seem to be so uncertain as to what legislation he actually wants, but I know that I shall want the same responsibility that I wanted when certain labor leaders tied up the economic life of the country with the coal and railroad strikes. Therefore, even though the President has apparently changed his mind with the momentary improvement in the situation, I still feel a responsibility which I could only discharge by voting to over-ride the President's veto of the Case Bill.

Our Agriculture Committee is working on a vastly enlarged program of agricultural research. I believe that the welfare of the American farmer is definitely tied up in scientific research, and I am happy to do all I can to develop a sound and comprehensive program of this kind.

With best wishes, I am

Yours sincerely,

"W. R. POAGE",

Congressman, 11th Texas District.
